BRETT MITCHELL, MUSIC DIRECTOR

2019
HOLIDAY
SENSORY
FRIENDLY
PERFORMANCE

DEC 7

SATURDAY 1:30 P.M.

M'Elwain Elementary
1020 Dawson Drive, Denver CO

Join musicians of the Colorado Symphony for a fun, interactive, and relaxed holiday-themed concert. Move and dance to the music and get a chance to try conducting. Plus, after the concert, you'll have the opportunity to meet the musicians and try playing some instruments yourself!

What is "Sensory Friendly"?

The Colorado Symphony presents performances for families of individuals with intellectual or developmental disabilities, autism, sensory processing disorder, or other conditions. The Colorado Symphony is happy to present a performance in a relaxed, sensory-friendly way to ensure everyone has access to live, affordable entertainment.

What to Expect at a Sensory Friendly Concert?

Sensory-friendly performances at the Colorado Symphony are an inclusive experience. Each performance is open to patrons of all ages and abilities and designed for individuals on the autism spectrum, those with sensory sensitivities, and others who would like to enjoy a concert in a relaxed environment. The symphony works closely with multiple accessibility advisers in the community to plan these experiences, where all patrons are welcome to come with family and friends and respond to the music in their own way!

SEAC Resource Fair for Families

Join us 1 hour prior to the concert for the Adams 12 Special Education Advisory Committee (SEAC), Resource Fair. The resource fair will include both school district and community organizations — that serve families of children/youth or individuals with special needs, learning and/or neurological disabilities. This is a great opportunity for families to learn about the many community resources available.
